In classical mechanics, Newton's laws of motion are three laws that describe the relationship between the motion of an object and the forces acting on it. The first law states that an object either remains at rest or continues to move at a constant velocity, unless it is acted upon by an external force. The second law states that the rate of change of momentum of an object is directly ...

Suppose also that there are s periods in a year, so $s=4$ for quarterly data and $s=12$ for monthly data. S_{t-s} is the seasonal factor in the same period last year. In some time series, seasonal variation is so strong it obscures any trends or cycles, which are very important for the understanding of the process being observed.
